1. What social work you did and why ?

>Well children , I helped the poor children with financial help in their studies and also visited around 150+ schools to teach children about how to serve nation in our own way ,

Why? Just because they needed ? If we can then why not , and why not also encourage others to do the same?

2. Why did you taught children about serving the nation ?

>well , This is really important to learn from such a young age because when you are young , you have a courage to do something , and if you have enough courage then you will surely do it in the future , and our Nation need it .

3. By your experience , tell us about the importance of the teamwork .

>I always needed helping hands because one person cannot really do all this alone .
In my case , I had a team of 10 people and we did this social thing together , And without them I would'nt be able to speak to you right now because whatever I am is because of THEIR hardwork.

4. What would you tell someone new about working in a team ?

> Well in my personal experience , I have always encouraged the young once to join the team and help us in whatever way they want because you need to start from somewhere , so this little start might invoke their inner social worker ? Haha yes happened many times !

5. What advice you would like to give us

➤ Never be ashamed to help the people of your own nation , They need you and you need them ,
And our nation needs you both ,
keep serving the nation !

Second interview

Mr. Yashkumar Shah

A teacher in government school
(primary)

1. What social work you did and what motivated you ?

> well , As I told you already that I am a teacher and I teach village children , I teach them do to the work we need to do in daily life like drilling , stitching , little bit of carpentering etc ,
And I didn't need any motivation , I just saw what the children needs and I started my work and I've been doing this from 10 years now.

2 . Tell us in more detail of what you saw that motivated you in helping them

> In city we have carpenters and other people available any nearby and most people have enough money to get it repaired

But that's not the case for village ,
So it would be much much better to be self independent , which will also help them in future if they would like to choose that as their profession so yeh , It must be beneficial for them to learn these

3. By your experience , tell us about the importance of the teamwork

> I don't have a dedicated team but surely my fellow staff members helps me a lot , We all together invest our time into the general education of these children , so yeh I really appreciate their help
And for sure team is the much needed for any social work

4. What would you tell someone new about working in a team ?

➤ I think if you ever get a chance to get involved in a team then please do it ,
You will learn a lot of things and you will gain a lot of knowledge as well , You will love teamwork.

5. What advice you would like to give us

> Help the people around you ,

Help in whatever way you can , but just help.

Third interview

Mrs. Savita Chaturvedi

A NGO owner

(her NGO regularly
feeds homeless people
2 times a day)

1. What social work you did and what motivated you ?

> You go travel on roads , don't you?
You see hungry homeless people everyday ,
That's what motivated me into leaving my job and just start a NGO and help my people.

2 . Tell us in more detail of what you saw that motivated you in helping them

> Well one day , I was just going by a road when someone a homeless man grabbed me by my leg asking for food , I didn't have money and I felt so guilty And I saw it as a sign from God for me to help them so yeh here we are.

3. By your experience , tell us about the importance of the teamwork

> When I first started helping out these people , it was quiet difficult for a single person to help so many homeless people at once , that's when I knew I needed a team ,
I asked few of my friends , few denied but 3 of my very old friends joined me and it helped me alot.
Now we are a team of 60 people which itself is a blessing that I can help so many people.

4. What would you tell someone new about working in a team ?

> Well working for a team by giving a lot of time without asking for money is difficult for many teenagers , but still I always encourage them to join and help me feed the homeless people , my husband is a business man so I don't really get a problem with buying food daily and sharing so yes , If you can then please help people.

5. What advice you would like to give us

➤ If you ever see a homeless man , feed him anything you can , even if 5 rupees biscuit but feed him , he needs food.

From the above examples

We get the one common message

“ Help those in need , they need it “

Which should be our prime motto as human beings.
